Clinic Update: COVID 19, Re-Opening

Karen Harper July 14th 2020

To all my lovely and valued clients,

Thank you all for your many good wishes and enquiries about when the clinic will re-open for face to face treatments.

Many of you will have been excited to hear of the re-opening of Spas and Beauty Salons this week.

I have spent time reading the Government's guidelines on the sort of treatments that can be offered. Unfortunately, the treatments I do fall into the "high risk category," which on my interpretation are not allowed at this present time.

There are still unknowns about this new virus. One of the problems we have, is that we can be infectious without symptoms. As the virus is spread by droplet infection, that is droplets that occur from coughing, sneezing even shouting or speaking aloud, this means any close face to face contact becomes high risk. We also have to be aware of current rate of spread. Ultimately the government has to make these decisions to protect the wider community.

I understand your disappointment and want you to know I am eager to see all your lovely faces soon

Warmest wishes to you all,

Karen x
